Bibliography – November 2015

Thermal Probe Development, key papers:

MouseMet & RatMet:

Spiecker-Hauser U (2004) Investigation of flupirtine in comparison with analgesic and sedative agents in a feline thermal pain model. Dissertation for Dr.med vet. Tierärztliche Hochschule Hannover, Germany

Slingsby LA, Taylor PM, Murrell JM (2010) Combination of dexametomidine with buprenorphine enhances the antinociceptive effect to a thermal stimulus in the cat compared to either agent alone. Veterinary Anaesthesia and Analgesia 37: 162-170

Topcat Metrology Ltd

doi: 10.1177/1098612X1244743 jsfms.com

Slingsby LS, Murrell JC, Taylor PM (2012) Buprenorphine in combination with naltrexone at a ratio of 15:1 does not enhance antinociception from buprenorphine in healthy cats. The Veterinary Journal 192, 523-524

